Hi, let's get you paid.

Most creators don't lose brand deals because their content isn't good enough. They lose them because they pitched the wrong way, priced from fear, or signed something they shouldn't have. This kit fixes all three. Tap a card to jump straight in.

01
Know Your Worth
A live rate calculator, add-on pricing and your own rate card.

02
The Pitch Scripts
10 copy-and-paste emails and DMs, plus a subject line bank.

03
Your Media Kit
A one-page template and exactly which stats to include.

04
Negotiation Cheat Sheet
What to say when they lowball, rush you or offer "exposure."

05
Contract Red Flags
14 clauses to catch before you sign, and what to ask for instead.

06
Tracker + 30-Day Plan
Log every pitch and follow a four-week roadmap to your first deals.

How this PDF works

- [ ] Tap the pills at the top of any page to jump between parts.
- [ ] Click into any box and type. Your answers stay in the file when you save it.
- [ ] Tick the checkboxes as you go. Watch the Rate Calculator do the maths for you.
- [ ] Best in Adobe Acrobat Reader, Chrome or Edge. Apple Preview and phone viewers can still read it, but may not auto-calculate.

Two ways to get paid

INFLUENCER DEALS

You post on your own channels to your audience. Brands pay for your reach, your trust and your creativity. Follower count and engagement matter.

UGC CREATOR

You make the content and the brand posts it on their channels or uses it in ads. Brands pay for the quality of your content. You don't need a big following.

This kit works for both. Where the advice differs, you'll see it flagged.

PLEASE READ

Rates, percentages and multipliers in this kit are rule-of-thumb starting points based on common industry practice. They aren't guarantees, and markets, niches and budgets vary. The contract guidance is educational and not legal advice. For large or unusual agreements, have a lawyer review before you sign.

PART 01

Know Your Worth

Price every deal in five steps, so you never quote from a guess again.

01

Underpricing is the most common (and most expensive) mistake new creators make. This calculator gives you a floor you never go below, a market anchor to aim for, and add-on pricing for everything brands love to ask for "while you're at it."

STEP 1

Find your floor

Your floor is the lowest price that covers your time, your costs and your taxes for one deliverable. Below it, you're paying to work. Fill in the white boxes and the lilac ones calculate themselves.

A. Hours to create one deliverable		hrs	e.g. 8 hrs
B. Your hourly rate	$		e.g. $40
C. Time cost (A × B)	$		= $320
D. Expenses (props, product, software, travel)	$		e.g. $30
E. Tax and fees buffer (25% of C + D)	$		= $87.50
YOUR FLOOR (C + D + E)	$		= $437.50

Not sure what hourly rate to use? Pick the number you'd need to earn per hour to feel genuinely good about this work. Start there, not at minimum wage.

STEP 2

Pick your market anchor

Now look at what the market commonly pays for your tier. These are typical starting ranges in USD for a single short-form video. Use them as anchors, not rules, and push higher for in-demand niches like beauty, wellness, finance, tech and B2B.

CREATOR TYPE	TYPICAL RANGE (PER VIDEO)	NOTES
UGC creator, just starting 0–5 paid projects	$100 – $250	Brand posts it. Price on content quality, not followers.
UGC creator with a portfolio and results	$250 – $600	Add proof: watch time, CTR or sales from your videos.
UGC specialist in a high-demand niche	$600 – $1,500+	Specialisation and fast turnaround command a premium.
Nano influencer 1K–10K followers	$50 – $300	Engaged, niche audiences convert well.
Micro influencer 10K–50K followers	$200 – $800	The common sweet spot for brands testing creators.
Mid-tier influencer 50K–250K followers	$800 – $3,000	Often negotiated through a manager or agency.

A common follower-based shortcut is about $100 per 10,000 followers for one Reel or TikTok. Adjust up for strong engagement and a niche audience, and down if your numbers are mostly inactive followers.

YOUR BASE RATE

Your base rate for one short-form video is the higher of your floor (Step 1) and the anchor that matches your tier (Step 2). Write it on your rate card at the end of this part. Canadian creators: convert if needed and always state your currency (CAD or USD) on every quote.

STEP 3

Price the add-ons

The base rate buys the content. Everything else is an add-on, and add-ons are where brands quietly ask for thousands of dollars of extra value. Quote every one separately.

ADD-ON	TYPICAL BUMP	WHAT IT MEANS
Organic repost, 30 days	Usually included	Brand reshares your post on their own channels.
Paid ads usage / whitelisting first 30 days	+30% to +50%	Brand runs ads using your content, or from your handle.
Extended paid usage each additional 30 days	+15% to +25%	The longer they run it, the more it's worth to them.
Exclusivity, 30 days	+25% to +50%	You can't work with their direct competitors. 90 days: +50% to +100%.
Perpetual rights / full buyout	3× to 5× base, or decline	They can use it forever. Never give this away.
Rush (under 5 business days)	+25% to +50%	Rearranging your schedule has a price.
Raw, unedited footage	+20% to +30%	They'll edit and reuse it in many ways.
Extra revision round beyond 2 included	$50 – $150 each	Or 10–15% of base. Stops endless rewrites.

PRO TIP

Put every add-on in writing, even if the brand says "we'll sort usage later." Later is when you lose leverage. Name the platform, the length of time and the fee for each one.

QUICK MATHS

Not sure how to price an add-on? Take your base rate for the video and multiply: paid usage for 30 days is roughly base × 0.4, and a 30-day exclusivity is roughly base × 0.3.

STEP 4

Build the quote

Final quote = Subtotal × (1 + add-on %)

Subtotal = your base rate × each deliverable (a Reel counts as 1.0×, a carousel about 0.5×, a Story set about 0.3×). Then add the percentages that apply. Try it with your own numbers:

Subtotal (base × deliverables)	$	e.g. $600
Paid ads usage	%	e.g. 40
Exclusivity	%	e.g. 30
Rush fee	%	e.g. 0
Other add-ons (raw footage, etc.)	%	e.g. 0
Add-ons total		= 70%
YOUR FINAL QUOTE	$	= $1,020
Does it clear your floor?

WORKED EXAMPLE

A skincare brand wants one Reel and one carousel, plus 30 days of paid-ad usage and 30 days of exclusivity. Your base video rate is $400.

Reel $400 + carousel $200 = $600 subtotal. Add 40% (paid usage) + 30% (exclusivity) = 70%. $600 × 1.70 = $1,020. Compare with the example floor of $437.50: the deal clears it with room to spare. And if a brand says yes instantly, you probably quoted too low. Raise your rates 10–20% next time.

STEP 5

Package it

Brands love options, and options protect your rate because the choice becomes “which package” instead of “whether to pay.” Offer three. A 10–15% volume discount is plenty, and a monthly retainer gives you predictable income.

	SINGLE	STARTER PACK	MONTHLY RETAINER
What’s included
Price	$	$	$
Usage rights
Revisions

Terms I always require

Deposit before I start ____ %

Payment due within ____ days

Revision rounds included ____

Approval window ____ days

A 50% deposit is standard for new brands. Aim for payment within 14–30 days. Never start without a written agreement.

YOUR RATE CARD

Fill it in once. Use it forever.

Copy these numbers into your media kit and keep them somewhere you can see them. Update every quarter, and every time you sell out of availability.

Deliverables

DELIVERABLE	BASE RATE	NOTES
UGC video (30–60 sec, brand posts)	$
Reel / TikTok on my page	$
Carousel or static post	$
Story set (3 frames)	$
Raw footage / B-roll pack	$

Add-ons

ADD-ON	MY FEE	NOTES
Paid ads usage / whitelisting (30 days)
Extended usage (per extra 30 days)
Exclusivity (30 days)
Rush delivery (under 5 days)
Extra revision round
Perpetual rights / buyout

PART 02

The Pitch Scripts

10 emails and DMs you can copy, personalise and send today.

02

The best pitch is short, specific and easy to say yes to. Every script follows the same five-part formula. Replace everything in [brackets], keep it under 150 words, and always send it to a real person, not a generic info@ address.

1 HOOK
Why them? Show you know the brand.

2 PROOF
Why you? One relevant result.

3 IDEA
What will you make? One concept.

4 OFFER
Deliverables and rates, or "rates attached."

5 ASK
One clear next step, not three.

Subject line bank

- Content idea for [Brand]: [Product]
- [First name], a UGC idea for [Product]
- Creator pitch: [hook idea] for [Brand]
- Loved [Product]: here's a Reel idea
- Quick idea for your [season / launch] campaign
- Partnership idea: [your niche] x [Brand]
- [Product] content that converts (sample inside)
- UGC creator for [Brand]: 3 hooks inside
- Your customers keep asking this. I made the video.
- Collab inquiry: [@handle] x [Brand]
- Following up: [idea title]
- [Brand] x [Your name]: ready to shoot

Personalise the first line of every pitch. One thoughtful sentence about their product or campaign is what separates you from the 200 copy-paste emails they got that morning.

SCRIPT 01

The Cold Pitch (creators with an audience)

Use when: You have an audience and want a paid partnership with a brand you don't work with yet.

Subject Content idea for [Brand]: [Product]

Hi [First name],

I'm [Your name], a [niche] creator with [XX]K followers on [platform]. My audience is [XX]% [demographic, e.g. women 25–40], and they keep asking me about [Product]. I've been using it for [time].

Here's an idea for your [campaign / launch]: [one-sentence concept, e.g. a 30-second "get ready with me" Reel showing how [Product] fits a real morning routine]. My recent [similar post] reached [XX] accounts and drove [XX] saves / clicks.

I'd love to make this for you. My media kit and rates are attached, and I have availability in [month]. Would you be open to a quick chat, or should I send a full proposal?

Thank you,
[Your name] | [@handle] | [link to portfolio]

SCRIPT 02

The UGC Pitch (no following needed)

Use when: You're a UGC creator. The brand will post your content, so your audience size doesn't matter.

Subject UGC creator for [Brand]: 3 hooks inside

Hi [First name],

I create UGC for [category] brands and I'd love to make content for [Brand]. You don't need my audience for this. I film ready-to-run videos you can post on your channels or use in ads.

Three hooks I'd test for [Product]:
1. "[Hook 1]"
2. "[Hook 2]"
3. "[Hook 3]"

Here's a sample of my work: [link]. UGC packages start at $[X] for one [30–45 sec] video with [2] revisions. Usage rights are quoted separately depending on how you plan to use it.

Want me to send a quote for a 3-video pack?
[Your name] | [portfolio link]

SCRIPT 03

The Superfan Pitch

Use when: You already buy and love the product. Authenticity is your advantage.

Subject Loved [Product]: here's a video idea

Hi [First name],

I've been a customer since [when], and [specific detail, e.g. "the [shade / flavour / feature] is the one thing I reorder every month"]. I put together a concept for how I'd show it to [target audience]: [concept in one sentence].

I'd love to turn it into a paid partnership with [Brand]. Who's the right person to talk to about creator collaborations?

Warmly,
[Your name] | [@handle]

SCRIPT 04

The DM Opener

Use when: The brand is active on Instagram or TikTok and you can't find a partnerships email.

Hi [Name]! Big fan of [Brand]. I create [niche] content for [audience] and I have a Reel idea for [Product] that I think your customers would love.

Who's the best person to send my media kit and rates to? Happy to share it here or by email. Thank you!

SCRIPT 05

Follow-Up #1 (day 5–7)

Use when: No reply after your first email. Most deals happen on the follow-up.

Subject Following up: [idea title]

Hi [First name],

Bumping this to the top of your inbox in case it got buried. In one line: [restate the idea and your proof]. I have [X] spots open for [month] and would love to hold one for [Brand].

Does a quick call this week work?
Thanks, [Your name]

SCRIPT 06

Follow-Up #2: The Graceful Close (day 14)

Use when: Still no reply. This leaves the door open without chasing.

Subject Should I close the loop?

Hi [First name],

I know campaign calendars fill up fast, so I'll assume the timing isn't right and won't keep reaching out. If [Brand] is planning creator content for [season / quarter], I'd love to be on your list. My media kit is attached for whenever it's useful.

Wishing you a great [season],
[Your name]

SCRIPT 07

Reply to "What are your rates?"

Use when: A brand reaches out first. Don't quote yet. Collect the details that set your price.

Subject Re: Collaboration with [Brand]

Hi [First name],

Thank you for reaching out! I'd love to work with [Brand]. So I can send an accurate quote, could you share:
1. The deliverables you have in mind
2. Your timeline
3. Where you plan to use the content (organic only, or paid ads too)
4. Your budget range for this campaign

I'll send a custom proposal within [48 hours] of hearing back. My media kit is attached in the meantime.
Thanks, [Your name]

SCRIPT 08

Reply to “We Only Do Gifting”

Use when: A brand offers free product instead of payment.

Subject Re: [Brand] gifting collaboration

Hi [First name],

Thank you so much for thinking of me. [Product] looks great! I keep gifted-only collaborations for products I already buy, since content creation is how I earn my living. For a paid partnership, my rate for [deliverable] starts at $[X].

If the budget isn’t there right now, I’d be glad to revisit when it is, or we could scale the scope to [a single Story set / one video] to fit. Let me know what you think!
[Your name]

SCRIPT 09

The Retainer Pitch (past clients)

Use when: A campaign performed well. Turn a one-off into recurring income.

Subject Keeping the momentum going: [Brand] x [Your name]

Hi [First name],

[Specific result, e.g. “the Reel we made in March drove XXX link clicks and was your top video that month”]. Since it worked, I’d love to make it a regular thing.

Here’s my proposal: a [3]-month partnership with [X] videos per month for $[X] / month. That’s [10–15]% below my one-off rate, with priority scheduling for you.

Want me to send over a short agreement?
[Your name]

SCRIPT 10

The “Yes!” Confirmation

Use when: They said yes. Lock the scope in writing before anyone starts working.

Subject Confirming details: [Brand] x [Your name]

Hi [First name],

I’m thrilled to confirm! Here’s what we agreed on:
Deliverables: [list]
Timeline: draft by [date], posting on [date]
Fee: $[X] [CAD / USD], [50% deposit now, 50% on delivery]
Usage rights: [where, how, how long]
Exclusivity: [none / details]
Revisions: [2] rounds

I’ll send the agreement and invoice today. Reply “confirmed” if anything needs to change.
[Your name]

PART 03

Your Media Kit

One page. Five minutes to read. The attachment that gets you booked.

03

A media kit is a one-page snapshot of who you are, who follows you and what you charge. Keep it clean and current, build it in Canva, and attach the PDF to every pitch.

What to include (and where to find it)

SECTION	WHAT TO WRITE	WHERE TO FIND IT
Bio	2–3 sentences: who you are, your niche and who you help or entertain.	Your own words. Write it like you talk.
Audience stats	Followers, average Reel / video views, engagement rate, reach.	Platform insights. Screenshot them monthly.
Demographics	Gender split, top age range, top 3 locations.	Instagram, TikTok or YouTube audience insights.
Services & rates	Your packages with “starting at” prices.	Your rate card from Part 1.
Proof	Past brand partners, your best result, a testimonial.	Past campaign stats and client messages.
Contact	Email, handle, portfolio link.	One email you check daily.

ENGAGEMENT RATE FORMULA

(Likes + comments + shares + saves) ÷ reach × 100, averaged over your last 10 posts. No reach number? Divide by followers and say so. Brands care about this more than raw followers.

NO NUMBERS YET? NO PROBLEM

New UGC creator? Swap the audience stats for your portfolio: 3 sample videos, your turnaround time and the formats you shoot.

PART 04

Negotiation Cheat Sheet

Exactly what to say when the brand pushes back.

04

Negotiation isn't confrontation. It's a conversation about scope, value and fit. Brands expect it, and most have budget they haven't shown you yet.

The six rules

1
Get their budget first.
Ask: "Do you have a budget range in mind?" If they won't say, quote the top of your range.

2
Say your price, then stop talking.
Skip "just," "only" and "sorry." Silence is part of the negotiation.

3
Trade scope, not worth.
Short on budget? Cut deliverables, usage length or exclusivity. Don't simply discount.

4
Everything is a line item.
Usage, exclusivity, rush, extra revisions and raw footage each have a price.

5
Know your walk-away.
Your floor from Part 1 is the number below which you say "no, thank you," warmly.

6
Get it in writing.
No agreement, no deposit, no work. Every time.

Know your numbers before every negotiation

My floor $ 800 My goal price $ 8800 My walk-away $

What I can trade: usage length · exclusivity · number of deliverables · timeline · revisions

The counter-offer formula

Appreciate > anchor the value > offer two options > ask them to choose

"Thanks for being upfront about the budget. For $[X] I can do [reduced scope], or for my full rate of $[Y] I can do [full package]. Which works better for you?"

Two options move the conversation from "yes or no" to "which one," and both are ones you're happy with.

If they say… you say…

THEY SAY	YOU SAY
"What are your rates?"	Happy to quote! What deliverables, timeline and usage are you envisioning, and do you have a budget range in mind?
"That's above our budget."	Thanks for being upfront. What budget did you have in mind? If it's lower, I can adjust the scope (fewer deliverables or a shorter usage term) so we stay within it.
"We're gifting product only."	I keep gifted-only collaborations for products I already buy. For this campaign my rate is $[X]. I'd be glad to revisit if budget opens up.
"We can offer exposure."	I appreciate that. Exposure doesn't cover my costs, so I work on paid rates. If your budget changes, I'd love to collaborate.
"Can you do it for less?"	I can get to $[X] with a reduced scope. Which would you like me to remove: [deliverable], [usage length] or [exclusivity]?
"We need it by Friday."	I can make that work with a [30]% rush fee. Otherwise I can deliver by [date] at my standard rate.
"We want to own the content forever."	Perpetual rights are a buyout, priced at [3–5]× my base rate. I can offer [6] months of usage, with the option to extend.
"We want unlimited revisions."	My rate includes [two] rounds of revisions, which covers nearly every project. Additional rounds are $[X] each.
"We'll pay 60 / 90 days after posting."	My terms are a [50]% deposit to begin and the balance within [14–30] days of delivery. That lets me hold your dates.
"Can you also post on TikTok / YouTube?"	Absolutely. Each additional platform is $[X] (or [XX]% of base). Shall I add it to the quote?
"We'll let you know" (then silence)	Send Follow-Up #1, then the Graceful Close (Part 2). Then move on. Silence is an answer.

PART 05

Contract Red Flags

14 clauses that cost creators money, and what to ask for instead.

05

Never work on a handshake or a DM thread. Read every agreement start to finish, and don't let a brand rush you past it. If a clause below shows up, you can almost always negotiate it.

	RED FLAG	WHY IT MATTERS	ASK FOR INSTEAD
01	Perpetual or unlimited usage	They can use your content forever, anywhere.	Limit the term (30/60/90 days) and channels. Price extensions or quote a buyout.
02	Whitelisting / paid ads not priced	Ads using your content or handle are worth far more than an organic post.	A separate fee, with a stated duration.
03	Vague or long exclusivity	"Any competitor" for 6+ months blocks your income.	Define the category and length, and be paid for it.
04	Slow or vague payment	Net 60–90, "after posting," or "after brand approval."	50% deposit, balance within 14–30 days, plus a late-payment fee.
05	Unlimited revisions or no approval deadline	Projects drag on forever and you can't invoice.	Cap at 2 rounds. Approval in 3–5 business days, or it's deemed approved.
06	Vague deliverables	"Content as needed" invites scope creep.	List quantities, lengths, platforms, formats and dates.
07	"Work for hire" / ownership grab	You hand over rights to everything, including raw footage and your likeness.	You license the content, you don't assign it. Limit likeness use to the campaign.
08	Auto-renewal or "option for more"	You're locked into more work at the same rate.	Opt out. Any extension needs a new written agreement and rate.
09	One-sided termination	They can cancel anytime. You can't, and you aren't paid for work done.	Add a kill fee: 50–100% of the unpaid balance if they cancel after you start.

	RED FLAG	WHY IT MATTERS	ASK FOR INSTEAD
10	One-sided morality / non-disparagement	Only you are bound, in vague terms.	Make it mutual and specific.
11	Broad indemnification	You pay for any legal claim, even ones you didn't cause.	Limit to your own content and cap liability at the fee.
12	Commission-only "partnership"	No fee, only affiliate earnings.	That's affiliate marketing. Price it as one, or require a base fee.
13	Requests for your login or passwords	A hard line.	Never share logins. Use platform tools (e.g. partnership ads access) instead.
14	Scripted claims you can't verify	Medical, results or income claims you can't back up.	Decline unverifiable claims. Follow disclosure rules in your region (e.g. #ad).

Every agreement should have...

- [ ] Both parties' names and the date
- [ ] Exact deliverables: number, length, platforms, formats
- [ ] Fee, currency and payment schedule (deposit + balance)
- [ ] Late-payment terms
- [ ] Usage rights: where, how and for how long
- [ ] Paid-ads / whitelisting terms and fee
- [ ] Exclusivity (category and length), or "none"
- [ ] Revision rounds and the approval deadline
- [ ] Cancellation and kill-fee terms
- [ ] Who owns the content, and who is licensed to use it
- [ ] Product or expense reimbursement, if any
- [ ] Disclosure requirements (#ad / paid partnership label)
- [ ] Posting dates and how long the post must stay live
- [ ] Contact person for approvals and payment

Before you sign

- [ ] I read every line, including the fine print and any linked terms.
- [ ] The price covers everything they're asking for, not just the post.
- [ ] My floor from Part 1 is covered, even after revisions and expenses.
- [ ] Usage rights and exclusivity match what I'm being paid for.
- [ ] The payment dates and method are written down.
- [ ] I'm comfortable posting every claim I'm asked to make.
- [ ] I've asked about anything unclear before signing, not after.
- [ ] For a big or unusual deal, a lawyer has reviewed it.

Invoice essentials

Your invoice should include: invoice number and date, your name and business details, the brand's name and contact, an itemised list of deliverables and add-ons, the total with currency, payment terms and due date, your late-fee policy, and how to pay you (e-transfer, PayPal, bank). Send it the day you deliver, and the deposit invoice the day they say yes.

This section is educational, not legal advice. When the stakes are high, a short review from a lawyer costs far less than a bad agreement.

PART 06

Tracker + 30-Day Plan

Stay organised, stay consistent and get paid.

06

Your deal tracker

BRAND	CONTACT	PITCHED	FOLLOW-UP	QUOTE	STATUS	PAID?

Status key: P pitched · F followed up · N negotiating · S signed · D delivered · $ paid

YOUR FIRST 30 DAYS

Five pitches a day.

Consistency beats perfection. Five pitches a day for two weeks is 50 conversations, and that's more than enough to land your first paid deals.

WEEK 1

Foundations

- [ ] Complete the rate calculator and your rate card (Part 1)
- [ ] Create 3 portfolio pieces (spec videos with products you own work great)
- [ ] Build your one-page media kit (Part 3)
- [ ] Set up a professional email and a clean link in bio

WEEK 2

Build your list

- [ ] Make a list of 30 brands: ones you buy, love or already see running ads
- [ ] Find a real contact for each (see "Where to find contacts" below)
- [ ] Write one custom first line per brand
- [ ] Set up your deal tracker

WEEK 3

Pitch daily

- [ ] Send 5 pitches a day using the Part 2 scripts
- [ ] Post 3 times this week featuring products you genuinely use (brands check)
- [ ] Log every pitch in the tracker
- [ ] Reply to every response within 24 hours

WEEK 4

Follow up and close

- [ ] Send Follow-Up #1 to everyone who hasn't replied (day 5–7)
- [ ] Send the Graceful Close after 14 days
- [ ] Use Part 4 to negotiate, and Part 5 before you sign
- [ ] Celebrate. Then send 5 more pitches.

Where to find brand contacts

- [ ] The brand's Instagram or TikTok bio: many list a collab or PR email
- [ ] Their website footer: look for "partnerships," "creators," "affiliates" or "ambassadors"
- [ ] LinkedIn: search "influencer marketing," "social media" or "brand partnerships" at the company
- [ ] The Meta Ad Library: brands actively running ads have budget and need fresh creative
- [ ] Creator marketplaces and UGC platforms (check which are active in your region)

No clients yet? Build your portfolio

Brands hire UGC creators on proof. Make three short "spec" videos with products you already own, and you have a portfolio in a weekend.

- [ ] The honest review: 30–45 seconds, you talking to camera about what you love and why
- [ ] The routine: a get-ready-with-me or day-in-the-life that shows the product in real use
- [ ] The problem and solution: start with the annoying problem, finish with the product fixing it

YOU'RE READY

Your work has value.

Now you have the numbers, the words and the checklist to prove it.

YOUR NEXT THREE MOVES
